UNIVERSITY OF LONDON, UNIVERSITY COLLEGE.

GOWER STREET, W.C. 1.

February, 1924.

DEAR SIR, OR MADAM,

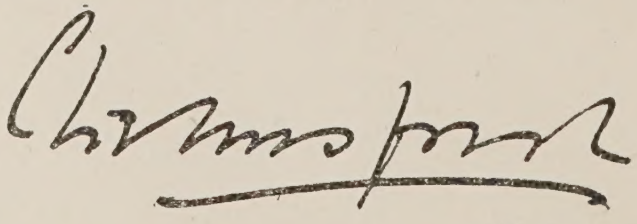
I am desired by the University College Committee to send you the Annual Report on the work of the College. The Report is necessarily only a brief summary of the activities of the College during the past year. I think you will find that it contains a record of useful and distinguished work, which is continually developing. The list of honours and appointments obtained by former students shows that the students trained at the College are heartily welcome in the various spheres of life which they enter.

The sections on the Visit of the King and Queen and on the College site and buildings, pages 43–47, indicate the rapid development of the scope and area of the College.

The financial position, as you will see from the earlier pages, is satisfactory and is most carefully administered by our two Treasurers. The continual extension of the College work and the demands made by it involve a continual increase of expenditure. I venture, therefore, again to ask the Fellows and Members of the College to whom the Report is sent to continue, as far as they are able, their generous assistance in helping to maintain the development of the College. A summary of the most urgent needs will be found on pages 18–19. I should like also to call the attention of the members of the College to the fund that has recently been instituted for the help of students who need financial assistance (p. 42). Owing to the present financial depression, the demands on this fund in the current year are very heavy ; in order to meet them, a sum of £400 is urgently required.

I am,

Yours sincerely,



Chairman.

Grand total	1669	1336	3005

355 students of other Colleges attended Intercollegiate Lectures.

There were 1214 registered Internal Students of the University, compared with 1174 in the previous year.

The geographical districts from which the Students came are given in Appendix I. (see p. 69).

The total fees available for the service of the Session 1922–23 amounted to £63,826 11*s.* 6*d.*, a decrease of £1,775 12*s.* 7*d.* on the previous Session.

THE CURRENT SESSION (1923–24).

The number of Students who have completed their registration and paid fees up to January 31st, 1924, is 2399, as compared with 2513 at the corresponding date in 1923.

The fee revenue (including fees of London County Council and Board of Education Students) to January 31st, 1924, amounts to £53,327, showing a decrease of £2,888 as compared with the corresponding date in 1923.

GENERAL FINANCES.

Financial Year 1922–23.

The Accounts for the year ended July 31st, 1923, are appended to this Report (Appendix II., pp. 71–87).

College Establishment Income and Expenditure Account.

Income.—The ordinary income amounted to £169,862 1*s.* 11*d.* as compared with £166,055 8*s.* 11*d.* in 1921–22, an increase of £3,806 13s. 0*d.* This increase is due, as to the sum of £2,102, to contributions received from extra-Metropolitan Authorities. Hitherto, the only extra-Metropolitan Authority from which any contribution has been received has been Surrey ; the County Councils of Essex, Kent, and Middlesex, and the Croydon and West Ham Borough Councils have now followed the lead given some years ago by the Surrey County Council. The remainder of the increase comes in part from the Rockefeller Endowment Fund and in part from the Department of Scientific and Industrial Research for salaries and service.

Expenditure.—The ordinary expenditure amounted to £167,415 4*s.* 1*d.* as compared with £160,640 1*s.* 2*d.*, an increase of £6,775 2*s.* 11*d.*

The excess of ordinary income over ordinary expenditure for 1922–23 was, therefore, £2,446 17*s.* 10*d.* To this has been added £3,451 1*s.* 1*d.*, the credit balance from 1921–22, making a total of £5,897 18*s.* 11*d.* This total has been utilised :

(i.) In writing off the debt on the Sculpture Studios	1,032	5	5
(ii.) Structural alterations of the Science Library (part of total cost of £6,105 7*s.* 0*d.*)	2,000	0	0
(iii.) Library special apparatus and equipment .	307	12	9
(iv.) University College School in respect of Incorporation arrangements	1,000	0	0
	4,339	18	5
(v.) Balance carried forward to the year 1923–24 for general purposes.....	1,558	0	9
	£5,897	18	11

The Grants from the Treasury, the London County Council, extra-Metropolitan Authorities, and other bodies, are set out in the Accounts. It will be seen (Appendix III., p. 89) that they amount to £72,069 15*s.* 0*d.* out of a total revenue of £169,862 1*s.* 11*d.*, while the amount of fees paid by Students is £63,826 11*s.* 6*d.*

Subscriptions and Donations (Appendix III., pp. 90–91) amounted to £4,126 10*s.* 7*d.*, of which £25 14*s.* 0*d.* was for general purposes.

The Balance Sheets.

(i.) Trust Funds Balance Sheet :—

During the year there has been transferred to the College from the Ramsay Memorial Fund the sum of £26,869 13*s.* 8*d.*, partly in cash and partly in investments, to be utilised for the Ramsay Memorial Laboratory of Chemical Engineering. The temporary building referred to on p. 47 will be reconstructed and equipped out of this fund at a charge not exceeding £6,800: the remainder of the capital, about £20,000, will be utilised later towards a fund for the erection of a new building. In the meantime, the income is to be applied, as far as required, to the maintenance and upkeep of the department.

(ii.) General Balance Sheet :—

The only matter to which attention need be directed is that the cost of the new Cycle House, £403 10*s.* 1*d.*, paid for out of Revenue, is to be added to Capital by the creation of a Redemption Fund, which is to be built up by credits from rents to be received from the use of the Cycle House.

The cost of the Rockefeller New Anatomy Building and equipment and the cost of the structural alterations and additions to the Engineering Departments, not being completed during 1922–23, will be added to Capital in 1923–24.

The Current Financial Year.

Estimates 1923–24.

The estimates for the current year (1923–24) show an excess of ordinary expenditure over ordinary income of £4,113. Towards this, the balance of £1,558 0*s.* 9*d.*, referred to above (see p. 17), will be available; by utilising the balance of the Reserve Fund Account (£4,000), a deficit on the ordinary Income and Expenditure Account at the end of the present Session can be avoided, and it is estimated that there will be sufficient to meet the debt of £1,105 existing at the end of the Financial Year 1922–23 on the alterations to the Science Library. The extraordinary expenditure required in connection with the continuation of the scheme for altering the Science Library and for altering and adapting for other purposes the rooms set free by the removal of the Department of Anatomy is estimated at £3,500, towards which there are no funds available.

Urgent Needs.

Members of the College will remember that in assessing the claims to Government Grants, the University Grants Committee takes into consideration the amount of local effort. The Fellows and friends of the College are therefore again asked to assist by special subscriptions the growing work that is being done.

Additional funds are required for the following capital purposes :—

A sum of about £15,000 is still needed for the equipment of the Physical and Electrical Chemistry Laboratory and for the general electric installation throughout the building. Without this equipment and electric installation, the full use of these splendid laboratories is seriously hindered.

A sum of about £5,000 is required to complete the scheme for the Science Library.

Towards the sum of £100,000 required for the completion of the South-West Wing for the Faculty of Engineering, the London County Council have made a special grant of £5,000 for the equipment of the new Laboratories. A sum of £52,562 has therefore now been raised in promises and gifts, with a further contingent gift of £10,000 from Lord Cowdray as soon as £70,000 has been raised. It is of very great importance that this work should be completed with as little delay as possible, as the demands upon the Faculty of Engineering, both for undergraduate and postgraduate work, are steadily increasing.

The purchase of Nos. 114 and 116 Gower Street, so as to provide a site for new buildings for the Department of Zoology and Comparative Anatomy (see p. 47) has involved an expenditure of £6,275, which has been met for the time being by a loan.

There are three departments for which additional revenue, either in the form of permanent endowment or of annual donations, is urgently required. They are Applied Statistics, Scandinavian Studies, and Celtic Studies.

The Department of Applied Statistics has, by the generosity of the late Sir Herbert Bartlett, Bt., been provided with a beautiful building, and has been partially equipped. For its full development, as contemplated by its founder, Sir Francis Galton, an additional income of about £5,000 a year is required.

The experimental period for which the Department of Scandinavian Studies was set up has come to an end, and the funds specially raised have been exhausted. The College Committee desire to support the Scandinavian Studies Committee in their endeavour to raise a permanent fund for this work. The department requires an income of £1,500 a year.

Little has been done so far for the promotion of Celtic Studies. There is a fund of about £20 a year provided for the purpose. The College possesses the magnificent Celtic Library of the late Dr. Whitley Stokes, which was presented by his daughters. It is desirable to set up as soon as may be a permanent readership in these Studies, for which not less than £500 a year is required.

THE COLLEGE COMMITTEE.

On the nomination of the Guild of Graduates, Miss Monica Geikie-Cobb, M.B.E., was appointed a member of the Committee vice Professor R. W. Chambers retired.

Professor J. E. G. de Montmorency and Professor J. P. Hill were appointed two of the representatives of the Professorial Board vice Professor Murison and Professor Elliot Smith retired.

THE PROFESSORIAL BOARD.

The following have been appointed members of the Professorial Board under Statute 24, Sub-Section (4) :—Dr. C. J. Sisson and Mr. W. J. Perry, University Readers in English Literature and Cultural Anthropology respectively.

Mr. H. J. Evans, Senior Lecturer in Chemistry to Medical Students, has taken the place of Mr. T. L. Wren on the Board for the current Session, his nomination being in accordance with Regulation 29, which requires that of the six members of the Academic Staff selected by ballot one at least shall not have been a member of the Board during the year last past.

The following Resolution was unanimously adopted by the College Committee at their meetiug on 2nd October, 1923:—

"That the University College Committee have learnt with deep regret of the death of Professor W. P. Ker. They desire to place on record their high appreciation of Professor Ker's services to Literature and to Education, and particularly of the work carried on by him from 1889 to 1922 as Quain Professor of English Language and Literature in this College. It was largely due to his initiative that the Department of Scandinavian Studies was instituted, and owing to his generous service as Director of that Department an excellent beginning has been made in a field of work hitherto untouched by any British University. The College Committee desire to concur in the hope conveyed in the resolution of the Academic Staff* that steps may be taken to publish some of the work left in MS. by Professor Ker, and will be prepared to render any assistance in their power to that end. The College Committee wish to offer to the members of Professor Ker's family their sympathy in the loss that has befallen them."

[See also p. 48.]

Professor James Sully (Emeritus Professor of Philosophy of Mind and Logic; Grote Professor 1891 to 1903; Lecturer in Æsthetics 1905 to 1914; former Life-Governor).

The College was represented at the Funeral by the Dean of the Faculty of Arts (Professor Platt); the Vice-Dean (Professor Dawes Hicks); and the Grote Professor of Philosophy of Mind and Logic (Dr. C. Spearman).

Professor Sir John Tweedy (Emeritus Professor of Ophthalmic Medicine and Surgery; held the Chair 1881 to 1904; former Life-Governor).

The College was represented at the Funeral by Sir George Blacker, Professor J. P. Hill, and the Secretary (Dr. Seton).

In connection with the death of Professor Rhys Davids, which was recorded in the last Report, the following resolution was forwarded by the Buddha Society of Bombay:—

"The President and the members of the Buddha Society, Bombay, have learnt with great grief of the demise of Professor Rhys Davids, the Dogy (sic) of Pali researchers for the last fifty years, and one who shed fresh and invaluable light on the Dharma of Lord Buddha; and in an Extraordinary General Meeting of the Society resolve to convey their condolence to those concerned with him, and hope that steps will be taken to perpetuate the memory of one of the greatest English authorities on Buddhism, in which the Society will be delighted to co-operate."

* In a resolution passed at a meeting of the Academic Staff on 1st October, 1923, the following occurs:—

"They [the members of the Academic Staff] trust that steps may be taken to publish much of the work left in manuscript by Professor Ker, and particularly the lectures delivered within this College."

WAR MEMORIAL AND WAR RECORD.

On Saturday, 10th November, 1923, an abbreviated form of the Armistice Day Celebration was held in the South Cloisters. A Wreath of Remembrance was placed around the names of those who gave their lives in the Great War; a Commemoration Address was given by the Provost, and a period of silence followed.

The second volume of the War Memorial Album is nearing completion, and will be issued shortly.

The Memorial Fund will be closed at the end of the current session. It is hoped that by that time every member of the College will have taken a share in this corporate effort.

The scheme for the joint War Memorial of University College and University College Hospital and Medical School is as follows:—

A. (i.) A War Memorial Album.
(ii.) Memorial Tablets.
(iii.) Scholarships.
B. A Great Hall for the use of the College and Medical School.
C. The Endowment of University College Hall, Ealing.

The expenditure on the War Memorial Album and on the Memorial Tablets are first charges on the Fund. When these have been discharged, there will be a sum of about £4,500 available for the three other purposes. This sum will not suffice to carry them to completion.

The College Committee desire to support the War Memorial Committee in expressing the hope that, before the end of the present academic year, those members of the College who have not yet subscribed to the Fund will do so.

The completion of the War Memorial Hall and the provision of scholarships for the sons and daughters of those who gave their lives in the War are essential parts of the scheme.

GRANTS AND LOANS TO STUDENTS.

The Bursary and Loan Fund was started on its present basis in the session 1921–22, with a small balance from a special fund raised during the War and with a grant of £551 0*s.* 6*d.* made by the College Committee from the Fees Suspense Account. Donations amounting to £93 10*s.* 0*d.* have been received, and the College Committee have since made a grant of £200.

Bursaries are gifts and are made either towards fees or towards maintenance.

Loans are made on the following terms:—

(a) Loans during a Student's career in the College shall not carry interest.

(b) After the end of a Student's career in the College the loans shall carry interest at the rate of 1% above Bank rate, with a maximum of 5%.

(c) Loans should be repaid within three years from the completion of a Student's College career, unless, on the special application of the Student concerned, an extension of time is granted.

(d) Students to whom loans are granted will sign a document accepting these conditions, and in the cases of Students under age their parents or guardians shall countersign the same undertaking.

In the Session 1921–22, loans amounting to £40 were made to three students, one of whom has paid back part of the sum lent.

In the Session 1922–23, loans amounting to £338 were made to nine students, and bursaries amounting to £60 were granted to three students.

In the Session 1923–24, loans amounting to £390 have been made to ten students, and bursaries amounting to £479 (£222 for maintenance and £257 for fees) have been granted to twenty-one students.

The fund is administered by a Committee consisting of the Provost, the Deans, the Tutor to Women Students, and the Sub-Deans.

This Committee deals with each case on its merits and after careful investigation.

The records of the Committee show that this fund is of great value and enables many students to obtain the training they desire and deserve. At the same time the fund is not at present large enough to enable the Committee to meet the needs of all deserving cases.

Members of the College are specially invited to support it.

EX-SERVICE STUDENTS.

In last year's Report particulars were given of the achievements of the 383 Students who, having held grants under the Board of Education scheme for Ex-Service men, had completed their courses in the College by the end of the Session 1921–22.

During the Session 1922–23, thirty-eight Ex-Service men holding grants were still at work.

In the Faculty of Arts, seven have taken University Degrees—one (Mr. C. Hulme) the M.A. in English; six, B.A. Honours (one First Class; three, Second; and two, Third).

In the Bartlett School of Architecture, three obtained the Certificate in Architecture, one the Certificate in Town Planning, and one was elected an Associate of the Royal Institute of British Architects.

In the Slade School of Fine Art, one completed his course satisfactorily.

Of the twelve men who held awards in the Faculty of Science, two (Mr. L. G. F. Dolley and Mr. A. Taffel) have taken the Ph.D. Degree and three (Mr. C. R. Bailey, Mr. G. Bishop, and Mr. R. Truszkowski) the M.Sc. Six have obtained B.Sc. Honours (one, First Class; three, Second Class; two, Third Class), and one the Pass Degree.

Of the six men who held awards in the Faculty of Engineering, four have taken the B.Sc. in Engineering. One of these also obtained the College Diploma in Engineering; two obtained the College Diploma in Engineering only.

Of the seven students in the Faculty of Medical Sciences, six have successfully passed through the earlier stages and are now engaged in clinical work.

There are only two men holding Ex-Service awards in the College this session (both in Medical Sciences).

VISIT OF THEIR MAJESTIES THE KING AND QUEEN.

Their Majesties the King and Queen visited the College on Thursday, 31st May, 1923, in connection with the joint Ceremony of the laying of the Foundation Stones of the new Obstetric Hospital and new Nurses' Home of University College Hospital and the opening of the new Anatomy Building of the College, all of which are provided under the munificent gift of the Rockefeller Foundation of New York. The ceremony took place in a special Pavilion erected in Huntley Street. On arrival, His Majesty inspected the Guard of Honour furnished by the Medical Unit of the University of London Officers Training Corps, under the command of Major P. H. Mitchiner, R.A.M.C.

Their Majesties were received by His Worship the Mayor of of St. Pancras, His Grace the Duke of Bedford, K.G. (President of the Hospital), Sir Ernest Hatch, Bt., K.B.E. (Chairman of the General Committee), Mr. H. J. Waring, M.B., M.S., F.R.C.S. (Vice-Chancellor of the University), and the Rt. Hon. Viscount Chelmsford, G.C.S.I., G.C.M.G., G.C.I.E., G.B.E. (Chairman of the University College Committee).

In the course of his reply to an Address presented by Sir Ernest Hatch, His Majesty expressed his consciousness of the significance of the occasion. This was no ordinary extension. The vast scale of the new development inaugurated was in itself remarkable. There could be but few instances of any foundation receiving £1,200,000 from a single benefactor in a single gift. The magnificent generosity of the Rockefeller Trustees was the more impressive because it was bestowed by a citizen of the United States of America upon a College and Hospital in London and, thus, upon the people of Great Britain and the Empire. The selection of the University of London to receive this princely endowment was not merely a high and well-deserved compliment and the creation of yet another tie of sympathy and friendship linking us with the United States, but it was the evidence and declaration of a conviction that the progress of science and the welfare of mankind are not delimited by national or racial boundaries, and that work done here in London for the relief of human suffering, the improvement of medical education, and the advance of science is a service to the whole world. The new buildings were designed for far-reaching developments in the traditional organisation of British medical education. The College and Medical School were selected by the Rockefeller Trustees for their benefaction from among many equally distinguished institutions partly because the situation was central and yet afforded room for expansion, and partly because the close connection of the Hospital and Medical School with the College provided favourable opportunities for that intercourse between medicine and other branches of learning which was the surest defence against the evils of a narrow specialism. But the Trustees were chiefly influenced by the establishment at the Medical School of what has come to be known as the "Unit System" of medical teaching, and, being convinced of the value of this reform, they desired to supply the resources for carrying it out in an English University on a scale worthy of its importance both to education and research. The essence of the Unit System lay in affecting the closest possible correlation between the science and the art of medicine, between research and education, and between theory and practice; and, as a means to this end, in placing the chief branches of medical education each under the direction of a head who is free to devote his whole time to teaching, research and hospital practice.

The privilege of accepting the munificent gift of the Rockefeller Trustees imposed obligations upon the staff to fulfil the ideals which it represented and upon the public to furnish the necessary support entailed. It was inconceivable that Englishmen should decline to welcome this generous challenge from our kinsmen across the Atlantic to a friendly rivalry in medical skill, devotion and beneficence. He cordially wished God-speed to the great enterprise.

After a Prayer offered up by the Lord Bishop of London and a hymn sung by the choir of St. Pancras Church, the Dean of the Medical School (Dr. [now Sir] George F. Blacker, C.B.E.) requested the King to lay the Foundation Stone of the new Obstetric Hospital. This ceremony having been performed, the Queen, at the request of the Lady Oranmore and Browne, proceeded to lay the Foundation Stone of the new Nurses' Home.

The Vice-Chancellor, in inviting His Majesty to open the new Anatomy Building, read the following message (dated 26th May, 1923) from the Chancellor (the Rt. Hon. the Earl of Rosebery): —

My Dear Vice-Chancellor,

In my unavoidable absence from the ceremony of the King's visit, I feel that as Chancellor I must write a few words of congratulation and sympathy on this august occasion.

In the first place I desire, though it scarcely seems necessary, to convey to Their Majesties the King and Queen the appreciation by the University of their visit, and of their continued interest in the affairs of the University, of which they and H.R.H. the Prince of Wales are Honorary Graduates.

In the second place, I cannot refrain from speaking of the Gift of the Rockefeller Trustees. This magnificent donation, made soon after the conclusion of the Great War, cannot but emphasise the friendship between ourselves and the United States. No more substantial or welcome mark of this feeling could have been afforded, which we appreciate all the more in these days of difficulty.

The object of the Gift is the promotion of medical education and research, and our University is naturally gratified that it should have been chosen for the benefits of this splendid gift. I therefore emphatically associate myself once again with the resolution of thanks and appreciation adopted by the Senate.

The choice of University College and of University College Hospital Medical School as the direct beneficiaries of the gift is in full accord with the scientific tradition that has obtained both at the College and at the Medical School since their foundation in 1827.

We shall long cherish the memory of this supreme occasion.

ROSEBERY.

The King then pressed a button and declared the new Anatomy Building open.

At the conclusion of the ceremony in the Pavilion, Their Majesties proceeded via the Medical School Library across Gower Street to the main entrance of the Anatomy Building, the route being kept by an Academic Guard under Colonel H. J. Harris. They were received by the Vice-Chancellor, the Chairman of the College Committee, the Principal Officer, the Chairman of the Building Committee (Mr. Andrew T. Taylor), the Provost, the Dean of the College Faculty of Medical Sciences (Prof. G. Elliot Smith), the Tutor to Women Students (Miss Winifred Smith), and the Secretary (Dr. Walter Seton).

Tea was served in the Anatomy Museum.

Their Majesties each accepted from the Chairman of the Building Committee a copy of the Brochure describing the new building; and the Queen was also graciously pleased to accept from Mr. F. Pittock, a Laboratory Attendant of the Department of Anatomy, a portfolio containing a series of views of the new building taken by himself.

Their Majesties subsequently made a tour of the principal parts of the building under the guidance of the Chairman of the Building Committee, Prof. Elliot Smith, Prof. Starling and the Architect (Prof. F. M. Simpson). They showed great interest in the demonstrations and exhibits displayed in the Dark and Light Rooms of the X-Ray Department, and expressed keen satisfaction with all the arrangements of accommodation, equipment and lighting. On leaving, the King offered warm congratulations on this important and unique addition to the College Buildings.

The following gracious message (dated 31st May, 1923) was addressed to the Chairman of the College Committee from Buckingham Palace after the Visit:—

> Dear Chelmsford,
> It was a great pleasure to the King and Queen to join in to-day's Opening of the new Anatomy Building of University College, and His Majesty commands me to express to you and all concerned their entire satisfaction with the excellent manner in which everything was done for Their Majesties' reception and comfort.
> The King and Queen were much interested in their tour of the Building and in all that it was possible to show them, enabling them to realise to some extent the University's lasting debt of gratitude to the Rockefeller Trustees.
> STAMFORDHAM.

A description of the new Building opened by His Majesty the King is given in the next Section.

THE COLLEGE SITE AND BUILDINGS.

Faculty of Medical Sciences.—Work was begun in October 1923 in the new Building for Anatomy, Embryology and Histology, and in the extension of the Department of Physiology, provided from the Rockefeller Benefaction.

The Building consists of five floors and a sub-basement. The basement is devoted mainly to practical work, i.e., dissecting and radiography; the first floor to teaching accommodation and museums, with a Museum 52 ft. × 50 ft., and a Lecture Theatre, 48 ft. × 40 ft.; the second and third floors to research in Anatomy, Histology and Embryology; and the top floor to teaching in microscopic anatomy and experimental work in Embryology and Cinematography. The Medical Sciences Library, with Periodical Room adjoining, on the first floor, is 66 ft. long × 25 ft. wide. The main Students' Laboratory, on the third floor, measures 52 ft. × 50 ft., and has accommodation for ninety. There is a room set apart for the cinematographic study of animal movements, with an ultra-cinema apparatus designed by M. Nogues, of the Marey Institute of Paris, by means of which it is possible to take up to 300 photographs of moving objects per second. The facilities for the study of living models inaugurate a new phase of anatomical teaching at the College. The X-ray equipment consists of the latest type of apparatus devised for radiography in all its medical branches. There is also accommodation for the Lecturer in the History of Medicine. There are also rest rooms for both students and members of the staff.

One of the essential features of the scheme which the new Building is intended to embody is the intimate correlation of work in Anatomy with Physiology on the one hand and with the clinical work of the Hospital and Medical School on the other. With this end in view, there is free intercourse on every floor between the two departments of the College, and a tunnel has been constructed under the street to link up with the Departments of Pathology, Medicine and Surgery, and the other subjects taught in the Medical School and Hospital.

The next step in the project for completing the Faculty of Medical Sciences block is the provision of suitable accommodation for Zoology and Comparative Anatomy. The Senate authorised the purchase of Nos. 114 and 116 Gower Street, adjoining the new Anatomy Building, for this purpose. The purchase price (£6,275, including the cost of building a boundary wall) has been advanced from General University Funds. This money, and the funds necessary for the erection and equipment of a new Department of Zoology and Comparative Anatomy, have yet to be raised. The opportunity of securing the property had to be seized.

Engineering.—A description of the reconstruction of the Engineering Wing was given in last year's Report. The equipment of the new laboratories is proceeding as rapidly as possible and as far as is permitted by the funds available. (See p. 19.)

Chemical Engineering.—No. 23 Gordon Street, the acquisition of which was recorded last year, is being reconstructed and equipped for the Ramsay Memorial Laboratory of Chemical Engineering, and is available for the reception of students as from the opening of the Second Term of the current session.

George Thane Theatre.—The former Anatomy Theatre has been named "The George Thane Theatre" in commemoration of Professor Sir George Thane's use of it during his tenure of the Chair of Anatomy from 1877 to 1919.

Refectory and Refreshment Room.—The Refectory and the South Wing Refreshment Room have for some time proved inadequate to meet the requirements for the service of luncheons and teas. The College Committee, therefore, decided to enlarge the Refreshment Room by extending it into the area and under the South Lawn. In this way additional seating accommodation for 106 students at a time has been obtained. Towards the expenditure on this improvement the University Grants Committee have provided £1,250.

Racquets Courts.—The second Raquets Court, which has for many years been used as a Bicycle House, has now been reinstated, much to the satisfaction of the Club concerned. The needs of cyclists have been met by the erection of a new Bicycle House in the North Quadrangle.

BENEFACTIONS AND DONATIONS.

The College Committee make grateful acknowledgment of the following gifts:—

The list on p. 91 includes the grants from the Drapers' Company and the Carnegie United Kingdom Trust, which have been renewed during the year. It also includes the sum of £300 subscribed annually through His Excellency the Italian Ambassador for the Department of Italian, and the donations to the Funds for the Decoration of the Flaxman Gallery and the Chair of the History of Art.

The Chadwick Trustees have, in addition to granting £250 for the Departments of Municipal Engineering and Hygiene for the Session 1923–24, made a special grant of £85 for apparatus for the Department of Municipal Engineering.

The London County Council have made a grant of £5,000 towards the equipment of the Engineering Laboratories.

The University Grants Committee have made a special non-recurrent grant of £2,500, to be used partly towards the cost of the Extension of the Refreshment Room and partly for the Women's Union Athletic Ground; it has been divided equally between the two purposes.

The Department of Scientific and Industrial Research has made grants to research workers in the following departments:—Applied Statistics, Chemistry, Bio-Chemistry, Physics, and Geology.

Mr. F. C. Stoop has given £1,000 to enable the Department of Dutch Studies to be re-organised and carried on for a further period.

Included in the donations toward the Fund for Chemical Engineering are the following:—£200 each from Messrs. Brunner, Mond & Co., The Burmah Oil Company, The Anglo-Saxon Petroleum Company, and the Anglo-Persian Oil Company; £105 from Messrs. Reckitts & Son, Ltd.; £100 each from Nobel Industries, Ltd., The National Benzole Company, Boot's Drug Company, Ltd., Messrs. Lever Bros., The Gas, Light & Coke Company, and the South Metropolitan Gas Company; and £50 from British Dyestuffs, Ltd., and The Distillers' Company.

The Bequest of £3,000 by the late Sir William Meyer has now been received and invested. The regulations for the Sir William Meyer Studentships for the encouragement of proficiency in European History or in the History and Geography of India (awards in these subjects to be made in alternate years, each Studentship to be tenable for two years) have been approved. The first Studentship will be offered in the Session 1924–25.

The W. P. Ker Testimonial Committee have handed over the residue of the Testimonial Fund for the establishment of a W. P. Ker Publication Fund, to be administered by the College Committee under a Trust Deed. The income is to be utilised to assist the publication of original works on English Language and on English Literature, or on cognate subjects, written by Internal Graduates of the University within ten years after taking their first London Degree.

The Thane Testimonial Committee have presented a Portrait in oils of Emeritus Professor Sir George Thane, painted by Professor W. Rothenstein, a former student of the Slade School.

A Fellow of the College, who desires to remain anonymous, has offered to provide £20 a year for three (or six) years for an Entrance Scholarship in the Faculty of Laws. The offer has been gratefully accepted and the Regulations approved.

Through the good offices of Senator Professor Cippico, His Excellency the Minister of Public Instruction in Italy has presented twelve engravings, being reproductions of Old Masters, for prizes in the Italian Courses.

Mr. Buckston Browne has presented portraits of Sir Henry Thompson and of Sir Starr Jameson. The latter, which is a mezzotint engraving by Herkomer from his oil painting, has, with the consent of the Donor, been placed in the Board Room of the Hospital.

In order to supplement the Slade Prize Fund, Professor Tonks, Mr. Child, Mr. Russell, and Mr. Steer have each made a donation of £5.

The Delegacy of King's College have presented a Plaster Cast of the Statue of Theseus (forming part of the Elgin Marbles) for the School of Architecture; the Lady Helena Gleichen, some turntables, irons and casts for the Department of Sculpture; and Sir Robert Witt, through the good offices of Professor Tonks, certain Rembrandt reproductions for the Slade School.

Gifts to the Department of Engineering include the following:— From Sir John Dewrance, a piece of apparatus for determining the properties of Lubricating Oils; from Messrs. Stother & Pitt, of Bath, a model of one of their most recent forms of luffing crane; from Messrs. Alfred Graham & Co., through the good offices of Professor Fleming, an Amplion loud-speaking telephone for wireless work in Electrical Engineering.

Lewis, two very fine preparations of a skull and of a dissected temporal bone; Professor M. J. M. Hill and Professor F. W. Oliver, two photographs of the late Professor Augustus De Morgan.

Donations to the Library are recorded on pp. 103–106.

The following brief summary of matters supplementary to the statement contained in the Report presented at the Assembly of Faculties is given here to make the record of the year as complete as possible:—

FACULTY OF ARTS.

The Bartlett School of Architecture.

The Report of the Professor on the Bartlett School of Architecture for the Session 1922–23 is appended hereto (p. 100). An important development in the curriculum of the School of Architecture has been the extension of the Degree and Diploma Courses to 5 years instead of 3 years. The College Certificate Course in Architecture has been extended to 3 years instead of 2 years. The Professor calls attention to the advantage of these extensions in the respective courses as shown by the higher standard of work in the initial stages resulting therefrom.

The Reader in Architecture, Mr. Arthur Stratton, on the invitation of the English Association in Holland, delivered lectures in various important centres in Holland on Historical Architecture, and made a most successful tour, which was much appreciated.

The Slade School.

The Slade School has continued throughout the year to be full, and there has been each term a long waiting list, as the limited accommodation of the School makes it impossible to receive as students all those wishing to enter.

In the Final Competition for the British School at Rome Scholarships in 1923, four students of the Slade School, Mr. H. G. Stutfield, Mr. A. Seaton White, Mr. E. Heber Thompson, and Miss Elizabeth Fyfe were among the selected candidates in Decorative Painting, Sculpture, and Engraving respectively.

School of Librarianship.

Appended hereto (p. 94) is a report by the Director of the School of Librarianship, Dr. E. A. Baker, on the work of last session, and on the Summer School for Librarians held at the College under his direction in July 1923. The Director's Report shows that the number of students in the School of Librarianship was 106, of whom 66 were new students. It is satisfactory to note that there was a larger number of graduates and of matriculated students than in previous years.

The School of Librarianship has, since its institution in 1919, been carried on with the assistance of a grant for five years of £1,500 a year made by the Carnegie Trustees. The College Committee feel that the progress made by the School fully justifies its continuance, and steps are being taken to place on a permanent basis a development of University activity first rendered possible by the far-sighted generosity of the Carnegie Trustees.

The number of Students enrolled in the School for the current session is 76, of whom 55 are working for the Diploma in Librarianship.

Dutch Studies. The Department of Dutch Studies, which was founded in 1919 by means of a capital sum raised by the Committee for the Promotion of Dutch Studies, has now been carried on for the initial period of five years, under the direction of Professor P. Geyl. The College Committee and the Bedford College Council have found it desirable to make a reconstruction of the Department from the beginning of next session; and the Senate have, on their recommendation, approved the division of the Department into two Departments—one a Department of Dutch History and Institutions, the head of which will be Professor P. Geyl; the other a Department of Dutch Language and Literature, the head of which will be the Reader, Dr. P. Harting. [See also p. 48.]

Italian. In the Department of Italian, the intercollegiate curriculum in co-operation with Bedford College and King's College has been continued with satisfactory results. The staff of the Department has been greatly strengthened by the return of Dr. Edmund Gardner, who occupied the Readership in Italian at the College previous to his acceptance of the Serena Chair of Italian in the University of Manchester. A new Chair of Early Italian Language and Literature has been established, and to this Dr. Gardner has been appointed.

Scandinavian Studies. Her Majesty Queen Alexandra has graciously consented to be Patroness of the Scandinavian Studies Fund, and efforts are being made by the Scandinavian Studies Committee to raise a sufficient capital sum for the permanent endowment of these Studies.

The Department suffered in July 1923 a grievous loss through the death of its Director, Professor W. P. Ker, who had taken the closest possible interest in the development of Scandinavian Studies from the inception of the movement.

Phonetics. Reference is made on p. 63 to the active work carried on in the Department of Phonetics under the direction of Professor Daniel Jones. The institution in the Department of a Centre for the Correction of Speech Defects has been approved, and arrangements are being made for the work to begin shortly.

Egyptology. The work of the British School of Archæology in Egypt continues actively under the direction of Professor Sir Flinders Petrie. At the Annual Exhibition showing the results of recent excavations, which was held at the College in July last, among the many antiquities found at Qau-el-Kebir, the object of outstanding interest was the papyrus manuscript of a portion of the earliest Coptic version of the Gospel of St. John, which ranks in age with the oldest Greek codices. A lecture delivered in the spring by Sir Flinders Petrie on "Royal Burials in Egypt, with special reference to Recent Excavations," proved of such great popular interest that it had to be repeated three times. The work of cataloguing and arranging the Egyptology Museum is in progress.

FACULTY OF LAWS.

The number of students in the Faculty of Laws, under the tripartite arrangement with King's College and the London School of Economics, is growing steadily. There are now 108 Laws Students, of whom 89 are undergraduates (U.C. 38, K.C. 39, L.S.E. 12) and 19 postgraduates (U.C. 11, K.C. 4, L.S.E. 4).

The new curriculum for the LL.B. involves a reconsideration of the distribution of Law teaching under the Tri-partite Scheme. The Senate has accepted the offer of the London School of Economics to found a full-time Chair of English Law with a salary of £1,500. The College is preparing a scheme for the further development of Law teaching to meet the growing needs.

A new degree of Master of Laws is shortly to be established. It is expected that this will lead to a further development in post-graduate work.

On the invitation of the Senate, Professor W. S. Holdsworth, of the University of Oxford, and Professor H. C. Gutteridge, of the London School of Economics, visited the Faculty in December. They are now engaged in preparing their report.

FACULTY OF SCIENCE.

Mathematics.

Professor M. J. M. Hill intimated to the College Committee in January 1923 that, in consequence of medical advice, he felt it necessary to resign the Astor Chair at the end of the Session. The College Committee and the Professorial Board, on receiving Professor Hill's resignation, adopted the following resolution:—

> That the University College Committee and the Professorial Board have learnt with deep regret that Professor M. J. M. Hill deems it desirable in the interests of his health to retire at the end of the current session from the Chair of Pure Mathematics, which he has filled with distinction since 1884.
> The College Committee and the Professorial Board desire to express their deep appreciation of the great services Professor Hill has rendered to the College and to the University, both in teaching and research, and also to University organization and administration by his devoted service to the College and the University while a member of the Council and of the Senate of the University from the time of its reconstitution in 1900 to the present time.
> As Chairman of the Academic Council for ten years, and as Vice-Chancellor of the University for two years, he has played a very important part in moulding and directing the policy of the University.
> The College Committee and the Professorial Board hope that he will for many years to come enjoy the well-earned freedom from the heavy duties he has discharged with such success, and that his leisure may enable him to carry on the study of Mathematics, to which he is devoted, and that he will maintain his interest and possibly find time to take part in the affairs both of the University and of the College.

Physics.

The Department of Physics suffered a grave loss at the end of last session through the resignation of the Quain Professor, Sir William H. Bragg, on his appointment to he posts of Fullerian Professor of Chemistry and Director of the Davy-Faraday Research Laboratory in the Royal Institution.

Dr. A. W. Porter has been appointed Professor of Physics for three years from 1st October, 1923, during which period the Quain Chair will be in abeyance. In accordance with the terms of the Quain Trust, a Quain Reader or Lecturer in Physics will be appointed during this period.

Chemical Engineering.

An important new development has been the establishment of the Ramsay Memorial Laboratory of Chemical Engineering, towards which a capital sum of approximately £27,000 has been provided by the Ramsay Memorial Fund. Mr. Evan Clifford Williams, M.Sc., has been appointed the first Ramsay Professor of Chemical Engineering, the appointment being for five years in the first instance. An Inaugural Public Lecture in connection with the new Department was delivered in January by Professor Williams on "The Aims and Future Work of the Ramsay Memorial Laboratory of Chemical Engineering," the Chair being taken by Sir Robert Robertson, K.B.E., M.A., F.R.S., who, as Chairman of the Chemical Engineering Sub-Committee, has rendered most valuable services to this new Department. The work of the Department has now begun in the special quarters, adjacent to the Chemistry Laboratories, provided for it by the acquisition of the lease of No. 23 Gordon Street.

History and Method of Science.

Leave of absence for the Session has been granted to Professor Wolf, Head of the Department of History and Method of Science, on account of ill-health. During Professor Wolf's absence, Dr. Singer acts as Head of the Department.

FACULTY OF ENGINEERING.

In the Faculty of Engineering, the benefit of the improved conditions and increased facilities, following on the extension and reconstruction of the Engineering Wing, is now being felt and appreciated. Full particulars of the reconstruction were given in last year's Report. The new rooms cannot be used to the fullest extent until the money for their complete equipment is forthcoming.

The Regulations governing the award of the College Engineering Diploma have been so modified that students who have obtained elsewhere the qualifications deemed sufficient by the Faculty may obtain the Diploma after an approved course of not less than two years.

FACULTY OF MEDICAL SCIENCES.

The outstanding event of the year in connection with the Faculty of Medical Sciences was the visit of Their Majesties the King and Queen to open the new Anatomy Building, to which fuller reference is made on p. 43.

Reference was made last year to the establishment in connection with the Department of Anatomy of a Readership in Cultural Anthropology. To that Readership Mr. W. J. Perry, of the University of Manchester, has been appointed. Conference has been held with the London School of Economics with a view to securing co-ordination in the teaching of Anthropology in the University; and Mr. Perry will co-operate with the Professors of those departments in other Faculties of the College which are concerned with anthropological problems.

The foundation of the new School of Hygiene with the assistance of the Rockefeller Foundation is likely to have an effect upon the teaching of Hygiene and other kindred subjects at the College. The College Committee have under consideration the question of the future relations of the College with the School of Hygiene, and have received an invitation to confer with representatives of the Ministry of Health thereon. They are co-operating in the matter with the University College Hospital Medical School, which is likewise affected.

A visitation on behalf of the University was made in June by Dr. J. G. Adami, Vice-Chancellor of the University of Liverpool, and Dr. G. Senter, Principal of Birkbeck College.

THE LIBRARY.

The accessions to the Library during the Session 1922–23 amounted to 7,128 volumes and 1,421 pamphlets, of which 1,922 volumes and 633 pamphlets have been presented. These figures include 2,000 volumes which have been deposited on loan by the School of Oriental Studies.

The Donations include the following items of special interest:—

(a) A collection of pamphlets dealing with the early history of the College, presented by Miss Busk.

(b) A collection of 277 periodicals, presented by the Committee of the Bath Club.

(c) A collection of archæological books, presented by Mr. Eumorfopoulos.

(d) A collection of 181 medical books, presented by Mrs. Vaughan Harley.

(e) A collection of 156 mathematical books and pamphlets, presented by Professor M. J. M. Hill.

(f) A collection of 95 psychological books, presented by Mr. G. C. Rankin.

(g) A number of valuable books, presented by Sir John F. Rotton.

(h) A collection of 76 medical books, presented by Dr. C. Singer.

(i) A collection of 254 medical and other books, presented by Professor E. H. Starling.

(j) A collection of 56 Italian books, presented by Miss Whitehouse.

(k) A collection of 44 Danish books, presented by Mr. I. L. E. Dreyer.

A complete List of Donations during the year ending 31 December, 1923, will be found in Appendix VII. (p. 103).

An "Arts Library" for Phonetics has been formed in Arts Annexe I, and one for Geography in Arts Annexe II. The seating accommodation in the French Library has been increased, and arrangements have been made for the extension of the English Library and for the formation of Libraries for Classics and Ancient History and for Scandinavian Studies.

The space vacated by the Anatomical Museum has been used for the extension of the Science Library. It is now possible to place on the open shelves sets of periodicals which were formerly in Store. Additional seating accommodation has been provided, and the Library has been re-organised in a series of seven large bays, one each for mathematics, physics, chemistry, zoology, botany, geology, and engineering. The north end of the Library gives direct access to the Departments of Botany, Applied Mathematics, and Zoology. The recent volumes of the chemical periodicals and most of the chemical text-books have been transferred from the Science Library to the Ramsay Reading Room, where they are more readily accessible to students working in the Department of Chemistry.

The books and periodicals dealing with the medical sciences and with anthropology have been removed to the new Medical Sciences Library in the Department of Anatomy. The 9,000 volumes and 16,000 pamphlets in this Library include the Sharpey collection and the Schwalbe pamphlets, as well as complete sets of nearly one hundred journals and the more important text and reference books. The Library consists of a Reading Room (44′×25′), a Periodicals Room (25′×22′) opening out of the Reading Room, a History of Medicine Room (26′×24′) opening out of the Periodicals Room, and a two-story steel Book-Store (44′×25′) which is parallel to the Reading Room and divided from it by a glass screen below and an open rail above. The Library will accommodate 40,000 volumes and 60 readers. The Reading Room, with its oak panelling and furniture, its polished oak floor, and the open gallery along one side, is a particularly handsome room. Most of the furniture and fittings have been specially designed, and the Library is in every way one of the most modern in England. The administrative and routine work is carried out by the general Library Staff; Mr. Bonser has been appointed Sub-Librarian in charge of the Medical Sciences Library, where he supervises the work and keeps in touch with members of the teaching staff and with research students.

A series of five rooms has been built at the south end of the Science Library for administrative purposes. These rooms are for the use of those members of the Library Staff who are not in charge of special libraries. This concentration of the Staff should lead to a great economy of time. The change has released three rooms, which will be used for the additional Arts Libraries mentioned above.

The special grant of £250 for arrears of binding has been used for the re-binding or repair of books on the open shelves and others which were kept in Store owing to the condition of their binding. The latter books have now been transferred to the open shelves, where their usefulness to the student is considerably increased. Hundreds of other books need to be treated in the same way.

By the death of Professor W. P. Ker, a member of the Library Committee for 33 years and a Chairman for 5 years, the Library loses a staunch friend and a generous donor. His frequent reply to the question whether a book should be bought for the Library would be, "No, I will give my copy." Many of the 860 volumes which bear Professor Ker's donation plate are of considerable value, and most of them are books which the Library would otherwise have had to purchase. He was ever ready to give advice on matters of Library policy or on the purchase of books.

Mr. Wilks has been promoted to the post of Sub-Libraran, vice Mr. Bonser. The Committee are again indebted to Mrs. A. F. Pollard for valuable voluntary assistance rendered during the Session.

During the Session 1922-23, 325 students held keys of the Science Library, and 630 of the different Arts Libraries. The number of books issued for home reading was 9,539.

EVENING AND VACATION LECTURES AND MEETINGS.

The evening activities of the College are steadily increasing, so that the buildings are now open on five evenings of the week for the purpose of special work, mainly of a post-graduate character.

In the Evening and Post-graduate School of History, the number of students during the current Session is 142. The work of the School is highly appreciated by school teachers and specialists in History.

It has been possible to develop the Evening School of Geography in view of the increased grant from the London County Council. The number of students in the School this Session is 69.

The Evening School of Phonetics and of Spoken Language attracts large numbers of teachers of Modern Languages, and its influence on methods of language teaching is rapidly spreading.

Vacation Courses in Spoken English for Foreign Students, in English for Teachers of English, and in French Phonetics for Teachers of French were organised in the summer, and were attended by 154 persons; those taking the Spoken English course represented seventeen nationalities.

The meetings of the Philological Society, the Geologists' Association, the Jewish Historical Society, the Jewish Students' Union, the Folk Lore Society, the London Section of the Incorporated Society of Musicians, and the University Faculty of Laws Society are held regularly in the College.

In addition to these, learned Societies, including the Classical Association, the British Psychological Society, the British Mycological Society, the Anglo-Hellenic Society, the Society of Glass Technology, and the National Union of Scientific Workers have met from time to time. In January, the Twelfth Annual Conference of Educational Associations was held at the College. The Association of University Women Teachers, the Association of Women Science Teachers, and the School Nature Study Union, have also held meetings. Accommodation is provided for University Tutorial Classes.

SPECIAL EVENTS.

The outstanding event of the Session was the visit of Their Majesties the King and Queen on Thursday, 31st May, 1923, to open the new Anatomy Building. A full account of this is given on p. 43.

During April 1923, Private Views of the Flaxman Gallery and Drawings Room, the redecoration of which was referred to in the last Report, were held.

On 30th April the annual Fellows' Dinner was held. Dr. J. Bourne Benson presided, and The Viscount Chelmsford, Professor M. J. M. Hill, and Professor E. H. Starling were the Special Guests.

On 11th May, a Tablet in the Entrance Hall of the Chemistry Laboratories, commemorating the munificent gifts of Sir Ralph Forster, Bt., was unveiled by the Chairman of the College Committee (the Rt. Hon. Viscount Chelmsford). The Laboratories were open to inspection after the ceremony.

On 12th June, a Complimentary Dinner was given to the Debating Team visiting from Columbia University.

On 5th July, a Complimentary Dinner to the retiring Astor Professor of Pure Mathematics, Dr. M. J. M. Hill, was held in the College Refectory.

On the afternoon of Saturday, 7th July, a Reception was held at the College, when the new Buildings were open to inspection, and exhibits, demonstrations, and short lectures were arranged in many departments. Over two thousand accepted the invitation.

On 12th July, the First Dinner of the Ramsay Memorial Fellowship Trustees and the Ramsay Memorial Fellows was held in the Refectory.

The anniversary of the day on which the first Charter was granted to the College, 28th November, 1836, was again celebrated by a dinner, at which 130 were present.

STUDENTS' SOCIETIES.

The following brief résumé is based on the Society Reports received for the Session 1922-23, supplemented in some cases by more recent information :—

The Union Society and the Women's Union Society record another session of steady progress in their several enterprises. The Inter-Union Standing Committee, which acts as a link between the two Societies, has done valuable work in co-ordinating the social activities of the various branches of student life. For Foundation Week last March the play chosen was Congreve's "The Way of the World," which was presented effectively by members of the Dramatic Society, its many difficulties being skilfully surmounted by the producer, Miss Bubna. The third performance was followed by a topical item entitled "Flinderella," written by Mr. Griffiths. The Foundation Oration was delivered by Professor Elliot Smith on "Renewing our Youth." A Debate and Dinner were also held in the College.

The Athletic Clubs of the Union Society have met with much success. Mr. G. T. Mitchell, who broke the College record for Throwing the Discus and Throwing the Javelin, and also won this event at the University Sports, entered for the Amateur Athletic Association's Southern Championships and became Southern Champion for the year for Throwing the Discus; later he entered for the Amateur Athletic Association's General Championship, and won the event of Throwing the Discus against all comers, thus becoming A.A.A. Champion for the year. The Rowing Club gained the Sir Charles Allom Cup in the Inter-Collegiate Eights and Fours. The Association Football Club won the Inter-Collegiate Cup against Guy's, Battersea Polytechnic, and, in the final, East London. At the University Sports, the Rosebery Cup was recovered from Guy's by a margin of two points, this success being largely due to good team work. The newly-formed Cross Country Section has justified its formation by winning seven out of the ten matches arranged. The Boxing Club won the Inter-Collegiate Contests, the general standard of Boxing being improved by the increased membership of the Club.

The Women's Union Society are pressing on with their scheme for the extension of their Athletic Ground. Towards the total sum of £5,500 required, about £3,200 has been raised.

The Students of the College continue to take their share in the work of the University Union Society and Athletic Union, and are keenly interested in the steps being taken for the promotion of athletics within the University as a whole by the acquisition of a University Athletic Ground. The President of the University Union for the current session, Mr. G. W. Odey, is a Former Student of the College, as is also Mr. C. W. Judd, who continues to be a moving spirit in the affairs of the National Union of Students.

The delegates of the Confédération Internationale des Etudiants at the meeting held in London in September under the auspices of the National Union, visited the College and were entertained at luncheon.

The reports of the several College Faculty Societies indicate work for the welfare of their respective Faculties. To their number has been added a College Medical Society.

The Engineering Society records great keenness on the part of its members. During last session, ten general and three special meetings were held, and visits were paid to eleven Engineering Works; social functions were also arranged. The prize for the best paper read during the session was awarded to Mr. A. N. Jackson for his contribution on "Gliders," Mr. D. R. Mackintosh obtaining the second prize for his paper on "Hydro-Electric Stations in France." A Bulletin of the Society has been inaugurated under the Editorship of Mr. C. W. Millard. The rooms of the Society have been improved, and several comforts added to them by means of a special fund raised by the members.

The Faculty of Science Society has also done good work in getting the Students of the Faculty to pull together as a whole and in promoting their social and athletic activities.

The Critical Society has held many interesting meetings, some of which have been addressed by visitors who are distinguished specialists. Round-table conferences have also been held, with the lecturers taking part, in the "Present Day Problems" Course of Lectures that is specially organized for Students.

The membership of the Literary Society has increased considerably; it includes Students from the Faculties of Science and Medical Sciences, showing that the opportunity for literary discussion is making a wider appeal to members of the College.

The Ancient History Circle, which had a membership of 103 last session, gave three performances of the "Antigone" of Sophocles last October, with the able assistance of Miss R. Marion Hill, who acted as producer. Members of the Archæological Society took part in a performance in Greek of "The Birds" of Aristophanes given at King's College in the Third Term.

A Classical Society was formed in the course of last session.

The French Society held eleven meetings, including two successful concerts of French Music.

The Geographical Society has increased considerably its membership and its activities.

The Physiological Society records a membership last session of 123. In addition to twelve general meetings held, visits were paid to the Lister Institute Serum Farm at Elstree and to the Wellcome Research Laboratories at Beckenham. A dance to celebrate the opening of the new Physiology and Anatomy Buildings was held in the new Buildings on the 29th June.

The Chemical and Physical Society has shown its customary activity in the arrangement of meetings, held weekly during term, and of visits to Works. Its social side has also been well maintained.

The Mathematical and Physical Society held eight ordinary meetings last session. The Distinguished Visitor's Address was given by Professor Whiddington on "X-Ray Electrons." The social programme of the Society has been extended.

The Natural Science Society has been dissolved, owing to the formation of a Botanical Society, as recorded in the last Report, and a Zoological Society.

A College and Hospital Motor Cycle Club has been formed with the object of providing runs and trials of a social and semi-technical nature. Although still in its infancy, the Club entered a team for the Motor Cycling Club's annual Team Trial last June.

The O.T.C. Rifle Club has lunch-hour practices on five days of the week, and entered for two matches with Northampton College.

The College Scout Club assisted in financing a camp for poor boys organized by the University Scout Club last Easter, and held a successful week-end camp of its own at Cookham Dean in the Long Vacation. A Rover Patrol has been formed.

The Christian Union and the College Branch of the University Catholic Society have both been zealous in holding meetings.

In addition to the Foundation Play, the Dramatic Society gave a Triple Bill consisting of "The Second Time" by Hubert Griffith, "The Cardinal's Supper" and "The Showing up of Blanco Posnett" by Bernard Shaw, Mr. Ewen being the producer. The Society also co-operated with the University Dramatic Society in a Triple Bill, Mr. Lee Nicholls producing for the College "On the High Road" by Anton Tchekoff. Performances of "You Never can Tell" by Bernard Shaw, preceded by Sir Arthur Pinero's "Playgoers," were given under the direction of Miss Bubna and Mr. Finlay. A lecture on "Drama and Education" by Miss Lena Ashwell and one on "Drama as an Executive Art" by Miss Elsie Fogerty were much appreciated.

The musical activities of the College have been reorganized, the former Choral Society being merged in the general Musical Society, which now consists of (i.) a Chamber-Concert Section; (ii.) a Choral Section; and (iii.) an Orchestral Section. Five Chamber Concerts were given last session, in addition to informal afternoon concerts and a joint meeting with the Literary Society. The Choral and Orchestral Sections hold regular practices, the latter proving itself a valuable auxiliary to dramatic performances.

The Old Students' Association and the Guild of Graduates continue to carry on the important work of keeping old students in touch with College affairs. Mr. B. N. Parker, the Honorary Secretary of the O.S.A., is bringing the Register up-to-date. The social programme of the past year has included Past versus Present Soccer and Women's Hockey Matches, a Dance, and a Dinner. In addition to the Annual Dinner to New Graduates held on the eve of last Presentation Day, the Guild of Graduates has sought, at its General Meetings, to arouse interest and corporate effort in matters of policy affecting the University as a whole.

The St. Christopher's Working Boys' Club has continued throughout the year its work for the benefit of the boys in the neighbourhood of the College. Major-General Sir George Aston is now Chairman of the Executive vice Dr. F. W. Goodbody. The Earl of Plymouth has been elected Honorary President of the Club in succession to his father, the late Earl.

THE HALLS OF RESIDENCE.

University College Hall and College Hall, and their respective annexes, have both been full throughout the year. At College Hall there has been a long waiting list.

Dr. Walter Seton resigned at the end of the Session 1922–23 the post of Warden of University College Hall, which he had held since 1912. Captain S. J. Worsley, D.S.O., M.C., B.A., has been appointed as his successor in the Wardenship. Mr. J. R. Gammell also resigned his post as Bursar at the end of the Session. The new post of Sub-Warden has been created, and Mr. R. C. Richards, M.Sc., Assistant in the Department of Physics, has been appointed thereto.

THE CRABB ROBINSON FUND.

During the financial year 1922–23, the following grants were made from the Income of the Crabb Robinson Fund :—

UNIVERSITY OF LONDON, UNIVERSITY COLLEGE.

SCHOOL OF LIBRARIANSHIP.

DIRECTOR'S REPORT

SESSION 1922–23.

The work of the School during the Session 1922–23 proceeded on the established lines, with no new developments but with steadily improving results. The number of Students was 106 (66 being new entries), the largest during any Session, and a more important fact is that their quality was high. They comprised a larger number of Graduates (11) and a larger proportion of Matriculated Students (10).

Before the Session began, Librarians and Library Assistants in London and the neighbourhood were invited to a meeting, at which the facilities offered by the School to persons actually working in libraries were pointed out: the result was an increase in the number of part-time Students. The introduction of Student Assistants in the University and other libraries, and the establishment of an exhibition, also contributed to the improved quality of the Students.

It will be seen from the appended statistics that the examination results were the best so far recorded, a higher number (13) securing the Diploma than in any preceding year; 22 Students not sitting for the Diploma won 46 sessional certificates, and 7 obtained certificates of the Library Association.

The Students carried out a great deal of useful practical work. The test in Book-Selection was conducted in the same way as last year, resulting in a steady growth of the encyclopædic catalogue of the best books published since 1910, and of works in English and French literature suitable for University libraries. Mr. G. F. Barwick, late Keeper of Printed Books at the British Museum, who was the University Examiner in this subject, rendered invaluable help by spending much time throughout the Second and Third Terms watching the work and giving the Students criticism and advice. Parties of Students spent many weeks in reorganising and cataloguing the libraries of the Educational Guild, the Historical Association, and the Wells Theological College, and during the vacations most of the Students served as volunteer assistants in various libraries, the committees or librarians expressing themselves well-satisfied with the services rendered.

Report on the Fourth Summer School—July 1923.

The fourth Summer School, which was held at University College, July 9th to 21st, was arranged in co-operation with the Council of the Library Association, who had abandoned for this year the Summer School at Aberystwyth. The number of entrants, however, was small, only 19 Students attending (a twentieth entrant, from Switzerland, withdrew on account of illness). These included 3 Students from Jamaica, 2 from Denmark, 2 from Switzerland, 1 from Holland, 1 from Capetown, and the remainder from the United Kingdom, most of them engaged in school libraries, county rural systems, or public libraries in the Provinces.

Last year's programme was repeated, short courses being given as follows:—English Literature (Tennyson to Bernard Shaw) and Book-Selection by the Director, Classification by Mr. Sayers, Cataloguing by Mr. Prideaux, Palæography by Mr. Jenkinson, and Library Economy, with special reference to County Library Systems, by Captain Wright; with supplementary lectures by Mr. Headicar on "The Organisation of a Commercial Library" and "Co-ordination of Library Administration," and by Mr. Esdaile on "Bibliography" and "Book-Production." At the inaugural meeting, an interesting lantern lecture was given by Professor Chambers on "Recent Work upon the Old Play of Sir Thomas More." Visits were paid to the British Museum, the London School of Economics, the Croydon Public Libraries, the Library of the Victoria and Albert Museum, and the Goldsmiths' Library, the chief librarians or members of the School Staff acting as guides and lecturers. Mr. A. H. Blake, President of the London Rambling Society, kindly took the Students on two archæological rambles in London, including a visit to Westminster Abbey. There were also excursions to Hatfield House and Welwyn Garden City, to Maidstone and Rochester. At Maidstone the Students were met by Mr. Allchin, Borough Librarian, and Miss Cooke, County Librarian, by the Director of Education, and by the Chairman of the Kent Education Committee, Sir Mark Collet, Bart., who entertained the party to luncheon. At Rochester they were conducted over the Cathedral and Castle by Mr. E. Farley Cobb, A.R.I.B.A.

The Students showed themselves interested and attentive and, apart from the small attendance, the results of the Summer School were good.

APPENDIX VI.

REPORT ON THE BARTLETT SCHOOL OF ARCHITECTURE.

SESSION 1922–23.

Day Courses.

During the Session the total number of Day Students registered for courses in the School was sixty-four, of whom forty-seven were men and seventeen women.

The work of the School has, on the whole, been satisfactory. Students are now following, not only the Degree and Certificate Courses as in former years, but also the newly organised Diploma and expanded Degree Courses, extending over five years. The advantage of the extension of the Certificate Course to three years is already seen in the higher standard of work in the initial stages attained by the Certificate Students, and there is little doubt that the extended Degree Course will lead to similar beneficial results. The first group of Diploma Students has, during the Session under review, completed the new fourth-year course. In view of the fact that the first year of the new course was necessarily experimental, the results at the close of the Session were by no means disappointing. Of the six Students who sat for the Diploma Examination, Parts I. and II., all passed in Part I. (Design and Drawing) and two of these were specially commended by the External Examiners. In Part II. (the written Examinations) two Students passed satisfactorily, two were referred in one subject, and two failed. The four Students proceeding to their fifth-year work, have, in accordance with the regulations, been placed in the offices of architects of recognised standing in the profession, and are now gaining their experience of office work, and attending the Atelier and Town-Planning Classes in the evening.

Three Students sat for the B.A. Honours (Architecture) Examination in July, under the old regulations. Two of these, C. G. W. Eve and M. A. Sisson, obtained First-Class, and the third, R. C. Theobald, Second-Class Honours. Owing to the recent extension of the Certificate Course, there were no Third-Year Students eligible to sit for the Certificate, with the exception of one who failed last year. A Certificate was awarded to this Student. One Day Student, S. N. Buchia, and one Evening Student, R. A. F. Riding, passed the Final R.I.B.A. Examination in July. Throughout the School, the majority of the Students have shown enthusiasm for their work, and at least nine have since obtained positions with practising architects.

The School was naturally concerned to some extent in the celebration of the Wren bi-centenary. A public lecture was given by me in the College in March, on the Life and Work of Sir Christopher Wren, and was well attended. Mr. Arthur Stratton and I sent contributions to the Wren Memorial Volume, published under the authority of the R.I.B.A.

In the second term the Secretary of the American Academy of Fine Art in Paris wrote to the School, asking for advice on the subject of Eighteenth Century Architecture and Decoration, and inquiring whether their Students, then in London, might visit the School. As a result of this enquiry, a series of three special lectures was arranged and delivered to these Students by Mr. Arthur Stratton and me.

As usual, the Department is indebted to the Staff of other Departments, who have assisted in their various specialised branches of work. A course of lectures of special interest was delivered by Mr. G. A. Sutherland, M.A., of the Physics Department, on the "Acoustics of the Auditorium," which was attended by the Students and Staff of this Department, and arrangements have been made to continue the teaching of this important subject in future Sessions. Professor E. A. Gardner has again given a course of lectures on "The Surroundings of Greek and Roman Life" to Second-Year Students, and these have been much appreciated. Valuable help has been received from the Engineering Department, especially from Mr. Sprague, who has spent much time in assisting Architecture Students with the work in Structural Design and Reinforced Concrete Construction. Mr. A. H. Barker delivered a course of ten lectures on Heating and Ventilation to the more advanced Students, and Professor Ormsby has arranged a special class in Surveying and Levelling for the third year. The Department has also to thank Professor Tonks and his Staff for arranging facilities for the Architecture Diploma Students to make the necessary studies from the Life in the Slade School.

Evening Courses.

There has been satisfactory attendance on the part of Evening Students during the past Session, and some good work has been done. The numbers registered were twenty-three.

Atelier.

Twelve members, former Students of the School, were enrolled at the Atelier during the year. In May, the Atelier, jointly with the Architectural Association and the "First Atelier," entered into competition for the "Crittall Freeman Prize," a prize offered by Mr. Sandford Freeman, of Messrs. Crittall Freeman Bronze Ltd., for the best shop-front design. Two designs sent in by the University Atelier were commended. Attendance during the Session was irregular, but, with the admission of the Fifth-Year Diploma Students, the Atelier should enter upon a vigorous Session of work.

Department of Town-Planning.

There have been fifteen Students in the Department of Town-Planning during the Session, and some good designs were entered for the Lever Prize Competition in the Third Term. Seven Students competed for this; the first prize was awarded to H. S. Triscott, and the second prize was divided between L. M. Austen and J. R. M. Simpson. Professor Ormsby delivered a course of lectures in Town-Planning and Civic Engineering, which were very much appreciated. On three occasions all the Town-Planning Students made whole-day excursions with Professor Adshead to areas around London, for the purpose of making investigations, as a preliminary to the preparation in the Studio of Town-Planning schemes for these areas. At the close of the Session six men gained the Town-Planning Certificate.
